OUR FACULTY

Living stained-glass windows of the Eternal cathedral;
Letting the light of the Master Teacher break through;
Outlining stars in the darkness of academic struggles;
Strengthening the glow of truth and morals.

Sister Irenaea . . . whose vision and sacrifice made Sacred Heart possible . . . efficient administrator . . . always our understanding friend;

Sister Paul Marie . . . our principal, whose personal touch and scholastic challenge instilled in us the determination never to stop at half-way marks . . . dedicated . . . always deeply interested in each of us;

Sister Noel . . . a part of us since "Camp Days" . . . helping us as tiny tots to mount the steps of school . . . now guiding us firmly over the crossbars of English mastery and college review classes;

Sister Ida Mary . . . wonderful moments of exploration and discovery . . . triumphs in the mysterious realms of research . . . science fairs;

Sister Gertrude and Sister Mary Cecile . . . opening wide worlds by breaking through the "sound barrier" of language . . . "We came, we saw, we conquered." Comprenez-vous? Oui.

Sister Bernard Mary . . . making the most difficult intricacies of mathematics fall simply and logically into place . . . making theological questions become part of everyday research;

Sister Johnette . . . no one leaves the library with just a "selection" or learns just facts in history . . . each must become a mentally and emotionally mature American Citizen;

Sister Helen Joseph . . . creating the perfect poise and developing the business skills demanded in the business world . . . guidance classes complete with illustrations;

Sister Rosalie . . . magical powers to transport us anywhere from the sparkling excitement of Spain to the dreamy solitude of a South Sea Island . . . music at its best . . . glee club with performance rich and distinctive;

Sister Nivard . . . leadership through music and art . . . challenge for every talent . . . adding strength and beauty to the libretto of our lives;

Sister Joseph Mary . . . experienced in the details of home arts . . . giving her best to the homemakers of tomorrow;

Sister Cosma . . . whether appendectomy or a broken finger nail, the gracious manner and nursing care were always applied;

Sister Longina . . . harmony in Sacred Heart's beautiful landscaping because of Sister's plans and interest . . . and those homey after-school chats;

Sister Jane Frances, Sister Mary Agatha, and Sister Leah . . . together they are the world's best connoisseurs in matters cafeteria;

Sister Mary . . . yes, we always took the long way round to the bookstore . . . Sister's smile and cheery good morning were waiting . . . identified with so many memories of our skills and drills;

Sister Emma Jean and Sister Susanne . . . frequently across the gray expanse of lobby, down the east wing to get help for a project . . . and always there was a helping hand;

Sister John Francis . . . last minute helps on newspaper deadline . . . our first debating challenge . . . "Is the man of yesterday superior to the man of today?"

Sister Terence, Sister Rose Genevieve, and Sister Martin . . . with open doors and open hearts along the west corridor . . . completing the galaxy that will continue to light the promised city of our tomorrow.

Tribute to Our Parents

The LIGHT TO GUIDE came to us through loving parents. . .their glowing love and understanding over the years. . .strong and warm during the helplessness of infancy
. . .clear and bright on the first day in grade one. . .brighter still during the many hours and days to follow. . .struggling with homework. . .taking care of the black eye and the bruised knee and measles. . .
making cookies for our friends. . .and then the light still more penetrating and constant during high school days. . .dispelling fear of social inadequacies. . .encouraging participation in scholastic challenges. . .directing best choices in true friendships. . .clearing the fog of indecision clouding future plans. . .
bringing us to graduation.

Blanca Chamorro

BLANCA N. CHAMORRO
Nicaragua

Blanca... a Spanish senorita... one of several children all of whom were educated in the United States... a graduate of Newton Country Day School, she enrolled in a post-graduate program... Blanca speaks three languages fluently... French, Spanish, and English are her favorites. May the experiences shared in our beloved country benefit you in all you pursue in the coming years.

Through prayer, study, and recreation as diligent and eager students we become energetic leaders dedicated to the service of God and country.

Left:
Seniors are always seeking the answers to
those P. O. D. questions.

Right:
This was always a peaceful pause
at noon.

Left:
With so many interested geniuses around, the seniors were always confident of their coming and going ... or were they?

Right: Elaine, with her experience
of many summer
at camp, could always find a sport to challenge
any senior's skill.

Left:
Dramation
of "Everyman"
afforded seniors
an opportunity to select characters
and direct a classroom production.

Paul always got
it to work.

Left:

Radio station WPLM had taped a glee club program and Sally, Gayle, Donna, Brenda, Sara and Ann were delighted with the results.

Right:

Walter, Albert, Fred and Dave always counted on an extra prayer before reporting for semester finals.

Left:

Gloria, Janet, Elaine, Rosemary and Joyce were part of the con-tingnet who had to report on the current labor bills.

Right:

or a special occasion, Phil was always there, a faithful server during his years at Sacred Heart.

Right:
Nothing like a rendezvous outdoors to prepare for an afternoon quiz.

SURF and SPRAY

Sacred Heart's Journalism Department centers around the production of our school newspaper, the Surf and Spray, and the preparation of our annual, the Corric. Our energetic staff spent many hours in the detailed work of these two productions.

Business Manager: Michael Pincelli

Assistant editors: Sandra Pembroke, Kathy Doherty, and Paulette Norton

Business Managers: Donna Morey, David Boucher, Kitty Hussey

National Honor Induction Ceremonies

National Honor Senior Members

Student Government at Sacred Heart is organized around three main bodies.

Left: The Executive Council is composed of the various officers who preside and hold veto power over the council's meetings.

Right: The Advisory Council is a senior board which offers counsel and holds a veto power over the governing actions of the council's legislation.

Left: The General Assembly consists of classroom representatives who vote on the council's legislation.

FORENSIC

Students at Sacred Heart find many opportunities to express their ideas in forensic activities.

Through forensic, students learn the importance of communicating truth.

The objective of the experience is to make the high school speaker of today the civic leader of tomorrow.

Right: Art
Club members:

Sheila, Gayle,
Sara, Dougie,
and Donna find
art a fascinating endeavor.

Left: Press Club

Our busy seniors
who scout for news
for the Surf and Spray get together
for an emergency meeting.

Right: Librarians

Senior librarians
Joyce, Ann, Starr,
and Kitty straighten the records for the weekend.

The symphony of memory
relives each drama night.

Each performance like some well-loved and long-remembered strain, echoes still the overture
of friends.

These years held happiness "whether we did sing or dance or study."

The Lady stands before him!

They hanged Him on a cross!

At the feet of the Virgin
... a heart of love.

SOCIAL LIFE

The class of 1960 has set a new precedent in original themes and decorations. The first to rise to the trend toward outer space as sophomores, the class of '60 presented Satellite Stroll featuring an eight foot robot and a rotating satellite.

On Christmas 1958,
we brought forth the junior presentation, Sno-Flake Frolic,
and a new personality
Frosty the Snowman.

DANCE HIGHLIGHTS

Choral numbers and dance routines were usually included to add special entertainment. Novelty dances were planned to enhance the program.

In our last dance we climaxed our decorating whims with Indian Autumn resplendent in authentic tribal relics in florescent colors and set before a tumbling waterfall.

Social hours are happy hours . . .

when good friends get together.

Ceremony of "The Passing of the Colors"

On the morning of the Prom, juniors and seniors attended Holy Mass in the chapel. A Communion Breakfast followed during which the juniors presented their program. Father Dooley, S. V. D. addressed the group after the traditional ceremonies were concluded.

THE GRADUATES OF 1960
are
SINCERELY AND DEEPLY GRATEFUL

To the High School Student Body and the Members of the Sacred Heart Grade School.

Their contribution and support have made possible this publication of the Room 105, Grade 6

Room 102, Grade 7
Room 104, Grade 7
Room 91 Grade 8

Room 92, Grade 8

To the Members of our Faculty:

This is quite obviously an inadequate manner to profess a profound debt of gratitude to the Sisters of Divine Providence at Sacred Heart who have, in His Name, given so much of themselves to so many of us.

Please God, we shall treasure forever their memory and influence. Humbly we beg them to visit with us in spirit during family prayers as we implore Our Lord to bestow His special blessing upon them and upon their works.

We have long witnessed miracles at Sacred Heart. With confidence we petition the Master Teacher to grant through Divine Providence this guidance to continue through the years.

Gratefully,

A Graduate
